<Step by Step Guide>

1) Make a barrel shape with the clay.

2) Press the handle of a bunisher on the center to bend (see the picture).

3) Press the outside gently to make a bean shape with your finger.

4) Put a small amount of syringe line from a green nozzle on the insert of the flat screw eye.

5) Insert the flat screw eye with some tweezers up to the root deeply.

6) Blend any extra syringe type with a moistened thin brush on the silver clay, and dry completely.

7) Smooth the whole surface with a red sponge sanding pad.

8) When you engrave the piece, mark with a pencil, and moisten the surface lightly with a wet tissue. *Do not rub or your engraving may disappear.

9) Engrave with a needle, and dry again. *Engrave deeply enough so that the engraving stands out.

10) After the surface dries, smooth the surface with the red sponge sanding pad and fire. If the depth of engraving is not deep enough, repeat Steps 8-9 before firing.

11) Finish with a stainless steel brush. Make a mirror finish if you like.

12) Attach the round jump ring and chain with the bean piece, and finish.
